

Final Report:

This can be in many forms from a straightforward list of records for parish register entries, or other document entries. It could be a transcription of a complicated document that needs palaeographic skills to read and understand.

Family Trees are produced using desk top publishing software – I do not use family tree software to produce client trees and reports.

Family history reports are produced using Scrivener software and converted to PDF.

All reports are sent as PDF copies but it may be possible to arrange publication through a printing company to produce a bound family history book. This can be discussed as part of the initial process.
